Program Director named to develop in-home services pilot

Cindy Boone has joined Masonic Homes of Kentucky as program director for home and community-based services.

Boone will take the lead in creating home and community-based services pilot project based in Ashland to serve Boyd, Carter, Elliott, Greenup and Lawrence counties. This program will connect anyone who needs help living independently with the services they need to remain in their homes.

Boone brings a range of business management experience to Masonic Homes. She most recently served as director of operations for Right at Home, providing in-home care and assistance to seniors and disabled persons in metro Louisville and southern Indiana.

A committed advocate, Boone has served on committees for Seniors Day Out, Jewish Vocational Centers Senior Employment Expo, The Parkinson's Foundation and Alzheimer's Association.
