A Builder’s Spirit -
The Gladys and Jack Jonas Trust bequeaths $1.4 million gift to Masonic Homes

With a mind for business and the spirit of a Mason, Roby “Jack” Jonas and his wife Gladys quietly built a legacy of honesty, hard work and financial responsibility throughout their lives. “They were just real good people. They worked hard all the time. They didn’t spend any money that they absolutely didn’t have to,” says the couple’s nephew Carl B. Franklin, Jr.

An early entrepreneur, Jack found his calling in real estate and home building. He acquired 13 acres in Valley Station where he built the Garden of Eden subdivision. He also built houses near UPS when the shipping giant was establishing itself in Louisville, and he owned multiple rental properties. Gladys worked at the A&P grocery store and cleaned the houses that Jack built and rented. Says Mr. Franklin of his aunt and uncle, “They helped everybody they could help, but they didn’t let anybody take advantage of them. They financed some of the houses themselves for people who couldn’t get a loan.”

The Jonas’ made their lifetime home in a modest two-bedroom they built in Valley Station in the 1950s. They never had any children. Jack’s mother died in childbirth with him, and he refused to risk losing Gladys.

The Homes’ 13th annual Great Day of Service brought over 400 volunteers from Masonic lodges and community groups across Kentucky.

Members of Plain City No. 449 traveled the farthest – from Paducah to Louisville – to plant and mulch the campus. Swigert-Middletown No. 218 boasted the most volunteers.

Homes’ staff, residents and family members also pitched in on both the Louisville and Shelbyville campuses. They mulched, painted and washed resident cars.

This year, each campus formed a human Square & Compasses. If you would like to purchase an 8” x 10” print for $15, please contact Brenda Travis (502.753.8892, btravis@mhky.com). All proceeds benefit the residents at Masonic Homes.

On service and volunteers

It is not surprising, but always heartening, to see so many people dedicated to one of the basic premises of Masonic Homes – to care for those who often are unable to provide fully for themselves.

That’s the spirit of Jack and Gladys Jonas. The couple worked hard, lived simply, and saved all their lives, and remembered Masonic Homes in their final plans. A trust bearing their names has gifted $1.4 million to Masonic Homes of Kentucky.

We also see that spirit of caring on our Great Day of Service, when volunteers from Masonic Lodges all over Kentucky, community groups, staff and volunteers come together to make improvements that benefit residents.

Every day, we are humbled by the caring of our volunteers, donors, and visitors who raise the spirits of all involved.

The team at Masonic Homes of Kentucky gives exceptional care to our residents and clients. Our Above & Beyond awards go to those members of our wonderful staff who go the extra mile. It’s a reminder that the entire team, from nurses and assistants to maintenance workers and cooks to physical therapists, works hard every day to make life better for those who need extra care.

Volunteers improve residents’ experiences in many ways

Whether through Great Day of Service or taking extra time with residents, Masonic Homes volunteers improve the lives of those we serve.

An example of our caring volunteers are the members of the AMVETS Ladies Auxiliary Post 61 of Louisville. This group of dedicated volunteers has been supporting Sally’s Garden memory care neighborhood residents for more than five years.

Read more about a recent colorful event the AMVETS Auxiliary put on for the Sally’s Garden residents on page six. If you’re interested in volunteering for Masonic Homes, please call 502.259.9627.

Upon his retirement in 1979, Jack traded his passion for building homes to raising his garden. The couple were avid gardeners, and Jack often exchanged ideas with his friend and WHAS-TV’s iconic “Weekend Gardener” Fred Wiche.

Nothing from the Jonas’ garden was wasted. It was all either eaten, sold or canned.

The year Jack retired, Mr. Franklin was hospitalized because of an accident. Jack and Gladys visited him in the hospital every night, bringing fruit and candy to supply the entire floor. That’s when Jack and Mr. Franklin became close. A few years later, Jack would ask Mr. Franklin to settle his estate and care for Gladys if he were to pass first.

Jack was a Mason, and Gladys was an Eastern Star. While Jack was not particularly active in the Masonic Lodge, longtime friend and business associate Virgil Hall says, “He loved the life of a Mason more than he attended the lodge … They were great people. She was a teammate with him.”

Jack Jonas passed away in 1998, and Gladys died at the age of 93 in 2014. Their unassuming, hardworking life and good stewardship is now bearing fruit for organizations they held close to their hearts. The Gladys and Roby “Jack” Jonas Trust gifted $1.4 million to Masonic Homes of Kentucky in late 2014, and the Homes recently received the final distribution from that trust. Other equal beneficiaries of the estate were Hospusus and the American Red Cross.

According to Bruce Lott, vice president of Fraternal Relations for Masonic Homes, “The Jonas gift is one of the largest we’ve ever received, and we are grateful for their dedication to one of the basic premises of Masonry – that is, to care for those who often are unable to provide fully for themselves.”

Says Mr. Franklin of his Uncle Jack’s success in business and in life, “It seemed like everything he touched turned to gold.” Gold, indeed. The couple certainly forged a successful formula – a bricks-and-mortar life plus a little green-thumb nurturing equals a treasured legacy for those in need.
Mission Makers

Making a difference in the lives of our residents, guests and community.

TV Just Got Easier to Watch
Aurora Lodge No. 633 donated a large flat screen television to the Grand Master’s Here in Spirit program. The television will be used in The Pillars Chapel to show videos/photographs during funerals/visitations. Pictured here are Tim Morrow, Bruce Lott, Harold Lee, Harold Johnson and Roy Caudill.

A Patriotic Gift from Tom Wheatley and Woodman Life
Tom Wheatley and his company, Woodman Life, donated flags for our residents. This helps instill pride in country and bolsters their sense of community.

Grill Masters
Bros. Tim Morrow, Steve Ward and Virgil Hall (from left to right) cooked bratwursts, hot dogs and hamburgers for the residents of Pillars and Sally’s Garden. These Masons represent the Jefferson County Masonic Education Association and have cooked for us before.

Kroger Helps Residents Get Into the Derby Spirit
During Derby Week, Kroger Co. donated 1,000 roses to residents and employees at Masonic Homes. The roses were among those used to create the Derby Garland presented to the race winner. As the official florist of the Kentucky Derby, Kroger donated the flowers to residents as they celebrated Derby and for employees who also celebrated National Nurses’ Week and Teacher Appreciation Week.

MHL Choir Performs
The Masonic Home of Louisville Resident Choir performed at the Optimal Aging Conference in Louisville. They joined hands during their last song, “We Will Overcome.” The conference attendees followed suit, joining hands and singing along with the residents.

Summer Camp Visit
Residents at Masonic Home of Louisville enjoyed two hours of fun with a group of 80 children from the YMCA summer camp. Together they played bingo, ball toss, and made Japanese good luck sticks.

Christmas in July
The Kosair Boat Club brought Christmas in July to the students at Sproutlings Pediatric Day Care & Preschool.

Longest Day 2016
Masonic Homes participated in the Alzheimer’s Association’s Longest Day event on Monday, June 20. Staff, residents and families painted, gardened, cross-stitched and rocked in rocking chairs from sunrise to sunset and raised over $1,130 for the Alzheimer’s Association.
AMVETS Ladies Auxiliary Post 61 creates memories for Sally’s Garden residents

On a rather gloomy April afternoon with heavy rains, the community room of Sally’s Garden memory care neighborhood was awash in color. Silk flowers and ribbons in every hue of the rainbow were scattered about as loving hands helped residents create festive hats for the upcoming Kentucky Derby season.

Those hands belonged to members of the AMVETS Ladies Auxiliary Post 61 of Louisville, a group of dedicated volunteers of who have been supporting Sally’s Garden residents for more than five years.

The AMVETS Ladies Auxiliary is made up of women with a relative who has served in the military. They support and raise public awareness for veterans’ issues and volunteer their time at programs that serve hospitalized veterans and others in hospital and medical settings, and with a variety of organizations.

Post 61 Auxiliary members have been serving Sally’s Garden and its two dozen residents since 2011, both financially and with their time.

The group’s visits celebrate major holidays and feature a game or activity such as bowling, bingo, or crafts. A recent luau-themed visit was a big hit. The auxiliary also provides a birthday gift and a $75 gift to Sally’s Garden in the resident’s honor during the month of their birthday.

Marsha Leisner, Program Director of Sally’s Garden, says the AMVETS Ladies Auxiliary visits are a welcome supplement to the services offered by Masonic Homes. “Their visits are wonderful for our residents. They always come up with something different and creative, and they’re getting the residents up and active as much as possible.”

Joy Herb, a longtime Auxiliary member and former president, noted that it’s not necessarily easy to interact with every resident. “I’ve worked in health care, so I know how challenging Alzheimer’s and dementia can be for caregivers. We came here because we all wanted a place where we could be hands on, and we fell in love with the people we’re serving,” she says. “And I think we make a difference.”

Masonic Homes has extended the reach of its nutritious food service to the community by partnering with SeniorCare Experts in their home-delivered meals program.

Five days a week, year-round, the main kitchen at Masonic Home of Louisville prepares 75-100 meals a day for the program. Independent living residents on campus help package the meals and get them ready for delivery volunteers.

Not-So-Newlywed event raises funds for Inspired Wishes program

On July 19, MHKY held the Not-So-Newlywed Game. Based on the 1970s television show, “The Newlywed Game,” the event put popular couples in our community against each other for a night of laughs, jabs and “oh my’s.”

Contestants included Aaron and Susan Miller, Dwight and Susan Witten, Lynda Lambert and Steve Lannert, and Neville and Jessica Blakemore. Dwight and Susan Witten won and were crowned Mr. and Mrs. Omlsted.

The event was a great success, raising nearly $30,000 for MHKY.

Inspired Wishes

All proceeds benefited our Inspired Wishes program, providing once-in-a-lifetime moments for our residents and guests.

The program already has granted dozens of wishes from hot air balloon rides, reliving high school football days and biplane flyovers. Most recently, we were able to fulfill an MHL resident’s lifelong dream by sending him and his family to a Coldplay concert at the KFC Yum! Center.
